GRAND APIZZA

New Haven Style Apizza Since 1955

Grand Apizza founder Frederick Nuzzo, a WWII fighter pilot, started making pizza in 1948. He began by working for his brother Nicholas, who owned Modern Apizza in New Haven, CT. In 1955, after nearly a decade working alongside his brother, Fred opened the doors to his own Grand Apizza in a Fair Haven, CT neighborhood.

Fred and Rosemarie Nuzzo ran the original restaurant for 50 years on Grand Avenue in Fair Haven. They built a successful business by word of mouth, not by advertising, and their pizzeria was known as a wholesome, great gathering place in town. Fred was also known as the "go-to guy" who was very supportive of local schools, churches and little league events in the community. Fred was a modest man that never bragged about anything... except his children and that he worked almost every day until he was over 75 years old.

His son, Mike Nuzzo, continues to carry on his father's legacy by owning and operating three successful Grand Apizza locations in Clinton, Madison and Guilford, Connecticut. Mike's two sons, Michael and Christopher, are now working alongside their dad, just as Fred taught Mike when he started.

From .50 cents for a small pizza in 1955 and three generations of making pizza; the Nuzzo Family is proud to celebrate over 60 years in business.
We look forward to serving you!

Mike Nuzzo with his sons Mike, Jr. and Christopher
